The April number of the Review of Reviews is the most instructive copy sent to the office in many months. The writers on this periodical are the very best, and their contributions on the affairs in Europe are exceedingly interesting. To get an accurate account of the war and the part the United States will play in it, read this magazine. Address, 30 Irving Place, New York, N. Y.

There are now thirty-six announced candidates for the various county offices published in the News. There are six or eight other candidates who have not yet handed in their names. It is perhaps the largest crop of candidates that has ever been before the people of the county. Out of this large number sixteen can win nominations, the Democrats having no candidate for Representative.

Mr. Ed Butler publishes a card in today's News announcing his candidacy for Assessor. His card fully sets up his claim, but it is not out of place for this paper to state that he belongs to a Democratic family, one that has at all times stood for the principles of said party, and he feels that he is not asking too much from her voters at this time. He hopes to meet all the people before the primary.

Highest Point in the County.

The village of Sparksville, eight miles from Columbia, is said to be located on the highest point in Adair county. Mr. Ernest Harris, who has been employed in the postoffice for several months, tendered his resignation the first of the month and will engage in other business. He gave satisfaction, and his only reason for quitting was that he believed that he could make more money upon the outside. A revival meeting will begin at the United Brethren church, April 15, 1917, conducted by Rev. Allen Dunkelberger, of Dayton, Ohio, Evangelist of the Miami Conference, one of the largest U. B. Conferences in the United States. He is a sane, practical preacher of the gospel and is endorsed by Bishop G. M. Matthews, D. L. L. D. The public is cordially invited and the cooperation of all the churches is desired to unite in the saving of souls.

C. H. Schad, Pastor.

The children of Mr. D. E. Phelps went to an entertainment at the Lindsey-Wilson, in a buggy, last Friday night. While the exercises were in progress some one drove the horse and buggy off and it could not be found when the exercises closed. Saturday afternoon it was found in the bushes near Longview, in a colored settlement. There were evidences that chickens had been hauled in the buggy, and the vehicle was considerably damaged. The horse was hooked to the buggy. The theft should be investigated.

Miss Rose Heyd returned from a visit to New Albany and Jeffersonville, Ind., last week. Miss Heyd was in the suburbs of New Albany when the cyclone came, two weeks ago, and immediately visited the scene. She says it was the most horrible and distressing sight that ever came to her vision. Pictures like this presented themselves; A mother had gone to a store to buy her two little daughters some refreshments. When she returned her home was destroyed and the two children dead. A man had gone to his work, leaving his wife and two children at home. When he returned the dwelling had been demolished and the wife and two children were dead. She describes many other scenes just as horrible. She is loud in her praise of Louisville and other cities who responded quickly with liberal donations.

A Great Business School.

After all, the best test of a school's efficiency is the record of its graduates. Viewed from this standpoint, the Bowling Green Business University, at Bowling Green, Ky., is entitled to the honor and high standing it enjoys. Its graduates are found in useful positions everywhere.

John W. Butler, Hereline, Ky.

Mistake Corrected.

The name of Miss Estelle Willis, who is a Democratic candidate for School Superintendent, has been unintentionally left out of the announcement column for two weeks. It was not noticed at this office until our attention was called to the omission. It is now replaced in the proper column.

Base Ball.

Quite a number witnessed the game of base ball last Saturday between Campbellsville and the Lindsey-Wilson boys. The weather was cool, but the players started in fine spirits. It was soon noticeable that the school boys were too much for the visitors, and the game closed 3 to nothing in favor of the Lindsey-Wilson.

Stroke Fatal.

"Aunt" Martha Frazer, a colored woman who lived in the suburbs of Columbia, met with a stroke of apoplexy last Saturday morning, dying in the afternoon. She was a woman who not only had the respect of her race, but also of the white people generally. She was about seventy-five years old and will be greatly missed by her people, especially her sons and daughters. The funeral was largely attended.

At Rest.

On Monday night, March 19, at 7:30 o'clock, Miss Emma E. Young crossed the river and entered into a brighter and better world above. She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Young, whose home is near Gadberry. She was born Feb. 5 1882, died March 19, 1917, making her 35 years, 1 month and 15 days old. She was laid to rest in the Stone cemetery, near her home. All was done that loving hands could do for her recovery. She leaves three sister, four brother, a father, mother and several nieces and nephews to mourn their loss. All were at her bedside, except one brother, who lives at West Point, when the end came. She professed her faith in Christ at the age of 15 and joined the Methodist church at Tabor and lived a consistent member since. She will not only be missed by her home folks but by the entire community. Bro Vance made a beautiful talk before a large number of friends and relatives.

Serious Accidents.

The dynamite cap is a dangerous thing to have sport with, as the following incidents will bear testimony:

On Monday of last week a little son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Kearnes, this place, in some way, got hold of one of these high explosives, struck it with a rock, which made it explode, and a number of pieces of the cap, made of copper, went into his left leg, making the wounds very painful. Dr. Flowers was called and up to Tuesday afternoon all the pieces of the cap had not been extracted.

On Wednesday morning a more serious accident occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joen N. Conover, who live one mile South of town. Their son James, their oldest offspring, who is in his eleventh year, found a cap on the premises, and boy like, he concluded to shoot it. Procuring a nail he stuck it in the cap, struck it with a hard substance, and as a result he lost the ends of his first and second fingers and the end of his thumb off his left hand. He was brought to the office of Dr. Flowers, where his wounds were dressed. While his hand will be disfigured he will have very good use of it.

These accidents should be a warning to all the boys, reminding them should they find a cap to let it severely alone. It is hoped that these two lads will soon recover, and that there will be no more serious results than is stated above.

Considerable frost here this (Tuesday) morning, yet the fruit is not all killed.

The Chataqua.

Mr. L. C. Winfrey is President of the local organization, Rev. O. P. Bush, Vice President, and Mr. John W. Flowers Secretary and Treasurer. The Committees have not as yet been appointed, but will be in a very short time. The grounds for the Chataqua have not been selected, but the opinion prevails that the Graded School campus will be decided upon. The program for the week is published in to-day's News.

For Assessor.

To the Democrats of Adair County. I hereby announce myself a candidate for Assessor, subject to the action of the Democratic primary in August 1917. Having had considerable public business experience, I feel that I am particularly qualified to conduct this office to the satisfaction of the entire citizenship, and if honored by my party with the nomination and elected in November, I shall strive with all my power to give that service which I feel a public trust imposes. I have always been a Democrat, and while I have given of my time for the success of my party, I have never before sought public office. In submitting my claims, I would greatly appreciate the support of the Democrats of the county, promising cheerfully to abide the result.

Dr. Ganfield's Visit.

As previously announced Dr. Ganfield, President of Center College, Danville, visited Columbia last Saturday, and on Sunday at 11 a. m. he preached to all the people the Presbyterian Church would hold. He is a very scholarly gentleman and speaks with much force, and is exceedingly entertaining. His visit was highly appreciated by the many who were given an opportunity to hear him.

Sunday night there were union services at the Methodist church when Dr. Ganfield again preached a most logical and helpful discourse. Monday he spoke to the two schools, giving the pupils wholesome advice, and Monday night he delivered a splendid lecture in the Baptist church "What it Takes to Make a Town Worth Living in." It was a treat to every one who had the pleasure of hearing it.

From here the distinguished minister went to Greensburg, to attend Presbytery.

Mrs. Antle Dead.

Mrs. Mary Antle, who was the beloved wife of Rev. Marion Antle, died at her home, on Bomar Heights, this place, last Thursday afternoon at 5 o'clock. Before her marriage she was a Miss Ramsey, and was born and reared in Russell county. When quite young she and her husband were married and to them seven children were born, all living, four grown, and two married. When the end came, beside the husband four of the children were at the bedside.

The deceased was about fifty years old, and had been a consistent member of the United Brethren Church for a number of years. She was a woman very much liked by her neighbors and friends, and her husband and children were devoted to her, hence she will be sadly missed. The deceased was confined to her bed for nearly two months, being afflicted with a complication of diseases, and during her illness she was closely watched by her physician, friends, and members of the family.

The funeral services were held at the U. B. Church, Friday afternoon, conducted by her pastor, Rev. C. H. Schad. Many friends being in attendance. The interment was in the city cemetery. The flowers were beautiful.

The sympathy of this town is with the sorrowing husband and children.

Miss Mollie Caldwell purchased last Monday, the residence, on Burkesville street, known as the Capt. W. W. Bradshaw property, from Mrs. J. F. Claycomb, for $3,100 and will take possession in a few days. It is a very desirable home and in the judgment of the public Miss Caldwell got a rare bargain.

Why Constipation Injures.

The bowels are the natural sewerage system of the body. Excerpts from President's Address

The new (submarine) policy has swept every restriction aside. Vessels of every kind whatever their flag, their character, their cargo, their destination, their errand, have been ruthlessly sent to the bottom without warning, and without thought of help or mercy for those on board, the vessels of friendly neutrals along with those of belligerents.

Even hospital ships and ships carrying relief to the sorely bereaved and stricken people of Belgium * * * have been sunk with the same reckless lack of compassion or principle.

I am not now thinking of the loss of property involved, immense and serious as that is, but only of the wanton and wholesale destruction of the lives of noncombatants, men, women and children * * * property can be paid for; the lives of peaceful and innocent people can not be.

The present German submarine warfare against commerce is a warfare against mankind. It is a war against all nations. The challenge is to all mankind.

We must put excited feeling away. Our motive will not be revenge or the victorious assertion of the physical might of the Nation, but only the vindication of human rights, of which we are only a single champion.

Armed neutrality, it now appears, is impracticable. Because submarines are in effect outlaws when used as the German submarines have been used against merchant shipping, it is impossible to defend ships against their attacks as the law of nations has assumed that merchantmen would defend themselves against privateers or cruisers, visible craft, giving chase upon the open sea. They must be dealt with upon sight if dealt with at all.

There is one choice we can not make; we are incapable of making; we will not choose the path of submission and suffer the most sacred rights of our nation and our people to be ignored or violated.

The wrongs against which we now array ourselves are not common wrongs; they are out of the very roots of human life.

I advise that the Congress declare the recent course of the Imperial German government to be in fact nothing less than a war against the Government and people of the United States.

Our object is to vindicate the principles of peace and justice in the life of the world as against selfish autocratic Powers.

We have no quarrel with the German people. We have no feeling toward them but one of sympathy and friendship. It was not upon their impulse that their government acted in entering this war. It was not with their previous knowledge or approval.

A steadfast concert for peace can never be maintained, except by a partnership of democratic nations. * * * Only free people can hold their purpose and their honor steady to a common end and prefer the interests of mankind to any narrow interests of their own.

One of the things that has served to convince us that the Prussian autocracy was not, and could never be, our friend is that from the very outset of the present war it has filled our unsuspecting communities and even our offices of government with spies and set criminal intrigue everywhere afoot against our national unity of council, our peace within and without, our industries and our commerce.

That it (the German government) means to stir up enemies against us at our very doors, the intercepted note to the German Minister at Mexico City is eloquent evidence.

We are accepting this challenge of hostile purpose because we know that in such a government, following such methods, we can never have a friend; and that in the presence of its organized power, always lying in wait to accomplish we know not what purpose, there can be no assured security for the democratic government of the world.

We are now about to accept the gage of battle with this natural foe to liberty and shall, if necessary, send the whole force of the Nation to check and nullify its pretensions and its power.

There are, it may be, many months of fiery trial and sacrifice ahead of us, * * * but the right is more precious than peace, and we shall fight for the things which we have always carried nearest our hearts for democracy—to such a task we can dedicate our lives and our fortunes, everything that we have, with the pride of those who know that the day has come when America is privileged to spend her blood and her might for the principles that gave her birth and happiness and the peace which she has treasured. God helping her, she can do no other.

United States in the War.

When the United States enters the war it will be untouched with self-interest save in the highest sense. No plans for seizing the territory of any nation, no scheme to exalt the nation's power and prestige at the expense of others, will have part in it. It will be primarily in the interest of neither side in the great European conflict, but in the interest of permanent peace, which can only be assured by the vindication of law and humanity as against might in the realm of international dispute.

It will be a war of defense in the strictest sense—a war that was forced on the United States in spite of its long-continued and patient efforts to preserve by other means that irreducible minimum of right and freedom of action which no self-respecting nation can render.

If the war must come, if it needs be that the great democracy of the West act strongly to preserve the things without which nationality is a jest and patriotism a byword, we may go into it with a clear conscience. —Chicago Herald.

Clear Your Skin in Spring.

Spring house cleaning means cleaning inside and outside. Dull pimply skin is an aftermath of winter inactivity. Flush your intestines with a mild laxative and clean out the accumulated wastes, easy to take, they do not gripe. Dr. King's New Life Pills will clear your complexion and brighten your eye. Try Dr. King's New Life Pills to-night and throw off the sluggish winter shell. At Paull Drug Co., 25c. Adv

An exchange says that a Michigan farmer last year bought a Ford machine and contracted to pay for it in March 1917 with 400 barrels of Irish potatoes.

When the contract was made potatoes were selling at $1.15 per barrel. At the present prices, if he is held to the contract, the "tin Lizzie" will cost him over $3,000. With advance in gasoline, unless he has a powerful long purse, he will be a bankrupt before the European war closes.

By order of the President Civil Service has been extended to all postmasters, taking them out of politics.

Stop Left over Coughs.

The Kaiser proposes to return what is left of Belgium and Northern France to their proper owners and to make peace for a "reasonable indemnity." Satan gave the Lord a better deal than that. Taking Him on a mountain he offered Him the whole of the earth below. But he required no indemnity. The Courier-Journal begs Satan's pardon for mentioning him in the same breath with the Kaiser. —Courier-Journal.

An Impossible Peace.

When the Imperial Chancellor declared to the Reichstag that Germany "never desired war against the United States and does not desire it today," he employed the conventional excuse that has masked every act of German lawlessness and aggression since Aug. 1, 1914.

Germany never desired war with Russia, and there would have been no war if Russia had consented to the extinguishment of Serbia and the political enslavement of the Slav races of the Balkans.

Germany never desired war with Belgium, and there would have been no war if the Belgians had not resisted the German invasion.

Germany never desired war with France, and there would have been no war if the French had given guarantees to violate their treaty obligations and be faithful to their pledges.

Germany never desired war with England, and there would have been no war if the British Government had acquiesced in the invasion of Belgium and the conquest of France.

Germany never desired war with the United States, and there would be no war if the United States would permit Germany to murder its citizens, sink its ships and conspire against its sovereignty unmolested.

Allow Germany to ride roughshod over the world, regardless of the laws of God or man, and nobody could desire war less than Germany. The Imperial Government is the very embodiment of peace, provided peace coincides with the aims of German autocracy and the ends of German militarism.

Whether or not Germany desires war with the United States Germany is making war upon the United States as she is making war upon everybody who stands in the pathway of Junker domination. That war is waged not only upon the high sea but even upon our own soil. Leagued with the murderous submarine is the horde of German conspirators in our own country menacing American life, American property and the stability of American institutions. We can have peace with Germany only on the terms that other democracies can have peace—by the abject surrender of our rights, our honor, our duty and our sovereignty.

"I know of no way of judging of the future but by the past," said Patrick Henry, and there is no way of judging of Germany but by the world's experience with Germany. The plain teaching of that experience is there is no peace for anybody, including Germany, until German autocracy has been crushed and the German people have been compelled by inexorable events to overthrow the political system that today is the greatest curse of civilizations.

This is a task to which the American people are consecrated by all their history and traditions and future generations will have no more reason to regret our active part in this imperative work of democracy than we have to regret the Declaration of Independence and the Emancipation Proclamation. The New Russian Cabinet.

Dangers there still are in the path of the new Russia, but the new government is composed of men of sterling ability and profound vision. The Committee of Safety proceeded to form a new Cabinet as soon as the old government had been overthrown. It is the most fortunate, the most gifted, the most expert Cabinet that ever took over the helm of a nation after a revolution. It represents the cream of Russia, the noblest sons of which have been drafted into its ranks. It has the ability to steer Russia safely to victory and an era of light and liberty and justice. It has the vision and the idealism necessary to make Russia not a mere member of the family of democracies in the world, but a great and fit leader of humanity.—From "The Russian Revolution," by Isaac Don Levine, in the American Review of Reviews for April, 1917.]

Safe Medicine for Children.

"Is it safe?" is the first question to be considered when buying cough medicine for children. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has long been a favorite with mothers of young children as it contains no opium or other narcotic, and may be given a child as confidently as to an adult. It is pleasant to take, too, which is of great importance when a medicine must be given to young children. This remedy is most effectual in relieving coughs, colds and croup. German Detained.

Ashland, Ky., April 4.—Great excitement prevailed in Catlettsburg to-day when it became known that a German sympathizer had been arrested and placed in the city prison. He said his name is Prof. K. B. Hentschel, and his card bore the name of Prof. K. B. Hentschel, piano and organ expert, 544 South Fourth street, Louisville, Ky.

His arrest came about through his persistent effort to send a telegram to the Secretary of War, in which he berated the United States Government for the stand it was taking in the difficulty with Germany. He said he was for America until this country proposed to wage war on Germany, and then he refused to acknowledge allegiance to the American Government, but would do all in his power to aid the Germans.

The telegram was intercepted at Cincinnati, and word was sent back to place the man under arrest. When arrested he used vile and insulting language against President Wilson and Americans in general. When his room was searched at the hotel papers were found in his grip which indicated that he had been carrying on a correspondence with the Carranza Government in Mexico.

The man apparently is polished and educated and much the type of man who would be qualified to carry on such negotiations. Pending developments he is held for safekeeping in the Catlettsburg prison.

Six Germans were convicted in New York of a conspiracy to destroy American ships.

Let Him Go!

There comes a period in the life of a boy when he wants to break away from home. It may be early, it may be later. When comes let him go. Let him go freely without restrictions. Do not tie a string to him, above all an apron string. The more freely he is permitted to go, the more freely he will come back.

Parents are likely to think the boys are queer creatures. But they are not. A boy is like an untrained mind with an abnormal curiosity, let loose in a laboratory. There is bound to be a breakage. There are bound to be explosions. The chemicals themselves are not quite normal, because, while they are undoubtedly products of Nature, they have been artificially arranged in that laboratory by certain artificial chemists.

It is best to let your boy loose in the great chemical laboratory called the world. It will be harder later on if you hold him back now. Between now and then he can find himself. But if you wait until then the rush of force will be so great he may lose himself.

Let him go! Country Gentleman.

War News.

British and French troops closing on St. Quentin have taken additional villages and points of support from the Germans. Attacking on a front more than eight miles in length, south and southwest of the harassed German stronghold, the French troops, notwithstanding stubborn resistance by the Germans, everywhere met with success, taking strongly-organized positions and villages, among them Dalon, about two miles southwest, and Giffecourt, two miles south of the town.

Plans for raising and training an army of 1,200,000 men are expected to be laid before the House Military Committee by the Secretary of War. The first step will be to recruit the army and national guard up to war strength, when the country will have 700,000 fighting men in the field. Then the call to the colors under the Universal Liability to Service Bill will bring an additional 500,000 men, apportioned among the various States. Mobilization of the naval militia and naval reserve is the only big move that remains to be made for the Navy Department in preparation for war.

Thirty prominent young women of Louisville began rifle practice to acquaint themselves with the use of arms and secure marksmen's aim so that they may be prepared for service if needed in the coming German war. The movement is fostered by the local branch of the National League for Woman Service, and the classes will be conducted each afternoon by Shelton Arterburn.

THE CHATAUQUA.

Will Open at Columbia Monday, June 11,
1917—Full Program for the Week.

IT WILL BE A BIG DRAWING CARD.

First Day: The IMPERIAL RUSSIAN QUARTET will give the full afternoon program and the prelude at night. This organization appears in full Russian military costume, of which the scarlet jackets are a brilliant feature. Their programs cover a wide range of music, including the wild fantastic Russian dances, the exquisite inspiring arias of the Old Masters and also many popular numbers. One particularly pleasing part of their program is the rendition of the beautiful Russian folk songs, accompanied by the haunting Russian balalaikas.

DR. LUCIAN EDGAR FOLLANSBEE, a man of the Col. Bain type, will lecture at night. For years he has been on the platform and recently completed his 1600th lecture under the auspices of a single Bureau. He not only pleases his audience and touches chords of human interest, but he arouses new enthusiasm in the community, in the town and in the whole problem of right living. Dr. Follansbee lectured with great success over our Western Circuit last year.

Second Day: The LORENZ ANDERSON NOVELTY ENTERTAINERS will give preludes both in the afternoon and evening. Their program is one of great variety and attractiveness. They will use the harp, saxophone, violin, piano, Clarinet and other instruments, as well as give vocal selections, novelty numbers and humorous sketches.

EDWARD ELLIOTT, famous as an actor and interpreter of literature, will give Charles Klein's gripping play "The Lion and the Mouse" in the afternoon. Mr. Elliott has arranged this play into a concise story told by the characters who are acted out by him and made real living people and the whole drama is portrayed in a wonderfully vivid and artistic manner.

STANLEY L. KREBS, a man of magnetic presence and eloquence, will give his great lecture "Two Snakes in Eden," which is a popular scientific and practical discussion of human nature as it is met with in business, professional and social life. This lecture is not only entertaining, but it is a practical help to any man engaged in any form of business. It has been delivered again and again before great gatherings of business men all over America, as well as at the largest Chataqua Assemblies in the United States. Mr. Krebs' remarkable command of language, his powers of analysis, the logic of his reasoning, the scope of his learning and his keen and trenchant wit, have made him one of the foremost men on the American platform.

Third Day: ANGELO VITALE AND HIS CONCERT BAND will give the full afternoon and evening program. This is the most successful band that we have ever used. Two years ago it appeared for the first time over our Eastern Circuit, and the requests for its return were almost unanimous. It was impossible for us to comply with these requests last season, however, but we are bringing it back greater than ever for the coming summer, and have added to it as a special feature, TORCOM BEZAZIAN, the great Russian baritone, who was one of the star attractions over our New York Circuit last summer. At night Mr. Bezazian wears the costume of the Russian peasant.

Master Vitale is a rare genius, found only once in a generation and his work has astounded musical critics everywhere. Besides having wonderful ability as a leader, he is an artist on the cornet and a capable composer. One of the interesting features of the band's program will be "The Anvil Chorus" accompanied by novel electrical effects.

Fourth Day: The full afternoon program and the prelude at night will be given by the THERESA SHEEHAN CONCERT CO., composed of Miss Shehan, reader; Miss DesJardins, violinist, and Mr. Frank Grover, soloist and crayon artist. Miss Sheehan is a remarkably talented reader and there is a sparkling freshness about her work that can be found in few people on the platform. Many of her numbers such as "The Sinking of the Titanic" were written specially for her and are given by no other readers on the platform.

At night DENTON C. CROWL, the "Sam Jones" man, will give his lecture, "A Medley of Philosophy, Facts and Fun." On the death of Sam Jones, Mr. Crowl was given the exclusive right to use his lectures. Mr. Crowl has taken the privilege of keeping these messages alive and up to date, and while he retains the same vocabulary as Sam Jones, he handles the problems of NOW in the same manner that Sam Jones would handle them were he alive. In all the beauty of his imagery, in all the rugged virility of his language, and in all the homeliness of his fun and philosophy, Mr. Crowl makes Sam Jones live again.

Fifth Day: The afternoon prelude and the full night program will be given by the MENDELSSOHN SEXTETTE, one of Louis O. Runner's popular singing orchestras. They will have vocal, instrumental and literary selections in endless profusion. A half dozen striking changes of costume will add a touch of brilliancy to their appearance at night and make a fitting setting for the grand climax of the Chataqua.

In the afternoon former Governor CHESTER H. ALDRICH of Nebraska, a strong, vigorous orator, will speak on the subject, "The Challenge of America," which deals with our foreign relations, and there is no question of greater importance before the American people to day. Gov. Aldrich is one of the representatives of the line of stalwart, fighting executives that have helped build the vigorous West of to-day, and his message will partake of the hardihood of the sturdy pioneers, whose memory is an inspiration to the men of the present.

In addition to the above program a special feature of the Chataqua this year will be the JUNIOR CHATAQUA for the boys and girls

A Form of Moral Treason.

The decision as to war or peace between the United States and Germany has been made. It was not made by the United States Government, but by the German Government. In the circumstances, any peace propaganda is in the interest of Germany and against the interest of the United States.

What is called a peace, propaganda is of necessity a pro-German propaganda, because Germany is already waging war against the United States. The pacifists who advocate peace are in reality advocating non-resistance for the benefit of German militarism. They are demanding that the United States not only surrender its rights and its honor but abdicate its sovereignty in order to permit to German autocracy to dictate the law of nations.

The World believes in free speech and has fought the battle of free speech for more than thirty years. But this is a time for all Americans to think about their duties as well as their rights. The debate is closed, and it was closed by Germany. The only question before Congress and the country is whether we shall defend the faith and the integrity of the Nation by casting our lot with the democracies or Europe in their struggle against autocracy, or whether we shall make ourselves the moral ally of German militarism by submitting to the crimes that Germany is deliberately committing against us.

Pacifist agitation can embarrass the President. It can strengthen the German conspiracy. It can give new courage to the German sympathizers in Congress. It can aid Berlin in its plots to divide the American people. It can cripple the defensive power of the United States Government. But it can have no other result. It cannot prevent war for Germany is already carrying on war against us and will continue to carry on war until this murderous submarine campaign is strangled by the might of civilized sea power.—New York World.

He is Only a Printer.

"He is only a printer." Such was the sneering remark of a leader in a circle of aristocracy-codfish quality says a writer in the Century Magazine. Who was the Earl of Stanhope? He was only a printer. What were Prince Edward William and Prince Napoleon? Proud to call themselves printers. The czar of Russia, the crown prince of Russia and the Duke of Battenberg were printers, and the emperor of China worked in a private printing office almost every day. William Caxton, the father of English literature, was a practical printer.

What were J. P. Morris, N. P. Willis, James Parker, Horace Greeley, Charles Dickens, Benjamin Franklin, James Buchanan, Simon Cameron, Schuyler Colfax? Printers all, and practical ones, Mark Twain, Amos J. Cummings, Bret Harte, William Dean Howells, Joel Chandler Harris and Opie Read were plain practical printers, as were Artemus Ward, Petroleum V. Nasby and Sut Lovingood, Senator Plumb, of Kansas, and James J. Hogg, ex-governor of Texas, were both printers, and the leader of science and philosophy in his day made it his boast that he was a "jour" printer. In fact, thousands of the most brilliant minds in this country are to be found in large cities and towns. It is not every one that can be a printer—brans, are absolutely necessary.

French Efficiency.

We have long been taught to believe that efficiency is but a synonym for Germany, but, viewing the economic wonders accomplished by France since the beginning of the war, it seems that the French have beat the Germans at their own game.

It is not alone even chiefly, in the perfection of her military machine that Frenchmen have manifested a marvelous talent for organization and the elimination of waste, but rather in the development and conservation of natural resources.

Robbed of half of her coal supplies; three-quarters of her iron and steel manufacturing plants and nine-tenths of her iron ore by the Teuton invasion, France was in a bad way industrially when the war was just beginning.

France has taken what was left to her of her coal and iron industry and has so conserved and developed it as to not supply her own requirements but also be able to give to her Allies nearly a quarter of her total output in arms and ammunition.—Arkansas Gazette.

Spring.

Spring is looked upon by many as the most delightful season of the year, but this cannot be said of the rheumatic. The cold and damp weather brings on rheumatic pains which are anything but pleasant. They can be relieved, however, by applying Chamberlain's Liniment. Obtainable at Paull Drug Co. Adv.

Rejoice Over the Stand of President.

Paris, April 4.—"It is a red letter day for us," was Premier Ribot's comment on President Wilson's speech. In conversation with his friends the Premier expressed the deep joy felt by everybody in France over the entry into the conflict of the great American democracy.

The official text of the President's speech has not yet reached Paris, so no official declaration in regard to it has been made by the government. A statement will, however, be made in the Chamber of Deputies on Thursday, if the American Congress has taken action at that time.

United States Ambassador Sharp called at the Foreign Office last night and was received by Premier Ribot and Jules Cambon, Secretary General of the Foreign Office.

Although to a certain extent discounted, President Wilson's address to Congress has made an enormous impression in France. The numerous vague and sometimes contradictory forecasts and rumors as to its probable contents, published continuously during the past few weeks, had served more than anything else to sharpen expectation. Consequently the message itself came almost with the force of novelty, and the joy of the press is unbounded.

The message fulfills the widest hopes of France. The front passages of the principal newspaper organs are entirely given up to it, and portraits and eulogistic pen pictures of President Wilson are published under such headings as "A Great Citizen."

"President Wilson's message," says the Matin, "is a logical sequence of the attitude he has maintained firmly for more than two years. It will cause a profound sensation in the world."

AMERICA'S PURPOSE.

The Petit Parisien says: "America enters the struggle not in order to satisfy territorial appetite, but to defend the rights of humanity. Her recognized and positive disinterestedness accentuates and makes clear the character of the war which all the democracies henceforth associated are making upon imperialism and despotism."

In the Figaro Alfred Capus says:

"This memorable date marks the moment when the whole world realizes the deeper meaning of the war of 1914 and the impossibility of living freely on an earth with a powerful, armed Germany. It will be a glory to the United States of America to have embodied a universal sentiment, and forsaking the role of spectator, to have entered the struggle to free the peoples of the world from the continued menace which a nation grown monstrous has imposed upon them. President Wilson will share the honor with his country and will leave his name inscribed on this magnificent page of history."

In the Socialist newspaper Humanite, M. Bracke, deputy for the Seine, writes:

"The message has been read by President Wilson and a decision is now certain by the American Congress which will give the final touches to bring out the true character of the world war."

Paper Mill.

Several local parties have been securing date with the idea of locating a factory to manufacture pulp. It is said there is enough spruce pine, hemlock and poplar in this section of Kentucky and eastern Tennessee to operate a mill very successfully. There is said to be one boundary of 25,000 acres with enough spruce to supply a mill for years.

The parties interested took the matter up the Government and learned that of the wood consumed in this country annually for the manufacture of pulp, about 57 per cent is spruce, 14 per cent, is hemlock, 9 per cent poplar and 7 per cent. of various kinds of wood waste. This 7 per cent, probably includes the long leaf pine used by the various mills thruout the southern states which are manufacturing sulphate pulp.

The department also stated that the smallest sized pulp and paper mill which can operate successfully is one having a capacity of 25 tons of paper a day. A mill of this size equipped to manufacture chemical pulp and convert it into paper would probably cost in the neighborhood of $400,000.00.

The local men who have taken this matter up will try and get in touch with some moneyed men of the East with a view of getting them interested. There is enough raw material in Kentucky and Tennessee to furnish a plant with all the material necessary to operate successfully.—Somerset Journal.

We Lift the Gage.

With the highest nobility of utterance, the President accepts the ponderous responsibility of war with Germany. It is a tragical step, declares the President; and with him the whole world agrees. But it is a step which must be taken lest the nation's honor degenerate. It is a step to be taken not merely in behalf of the honor and rights of the American people, but in support of the claims of Democracy upon the greatest republic. The solemnity of the occasion impresses the whole people; and yet the spiritual atmosphere is wonderfully cleared to-day. Nobody sees in war any poetry or glory. The worn-old conception of "pomp and circumstance" is cast into the dustheap; and the American Nation goes forth to war as grimly as did the iron regiments of Cromwell.

But if the nation goes forth to war with grim set lips and stern cheeks of resolution, lacking all those trappings and symbols of joyous abandon attributed to warriors of old, so much the worse for the Germans. This war—as the whole world may see—is not of our seeking. Sublime patience has marked the President's whole dealings with the Hohenzollern. The nation has restrained its resentment, there has been no jingoism. All have hoped to avoid war, if so be it could be avoided with honor. We have composed differences as bitter as ever stood between civilization and barbarism, but to no avail.

Therefore the President of the United States, with a moral courage perfected by months and years of restraint and earnest seeking for justice and right without the shedding of more innocent blood, lifts the gage of battle thrown down by a blood-thirsty barbarian; and calls to his side the manhood of the Nation and its resources of treasure, that the United States may go to the forefront of battle to take its proper place upon the side of human liberty and human decency. Well the President knows what the reply to his call will be. Long ere this the manhood and the treasure of the nation have been his for the asking—the world will see how quickly democracy will fight to defend democracy's ideals, all other means having been denied by the Prussian madman.

The Congress received the President's noble address with tumultuous applause; and will debate to-day the Flood resolution. There is no question that the requests of the President for various forms of action will be granted quickly. They cannot be granted too quickly. There is little room for debate; and these questions should be passed upon in as simple a manner as possible. Too much oratory at the moment would merely damage the country's position; and could not possibly do good. Despite the great opportunity for empty shouting of patriotic platitudes—at the country's expense—The Congress should act with celerity, expressing in action much more vividly than in words, their loyalty and energy in the country's behalf.—Louisville Times.

Why Wilson Refused Pardon.

President Wilson has written Mrs. Anthony Caminetti the reasons why he could not pardon her son, F. Drew Caminetti, convicted at San Francisco of violating the Mann white slave law. The President's letter to Mrs. Caminetti was as follows:

"It tears my heart to have to say to you that I cannot see my way clear to pardon your son. If I follow the dictates of my heart or allowed myself to be influenced by my genuine friendship for yourself and your husband, I would of course do it; but in matters of this sort it seems to be my imperative duty to leave personal feelings and connections out of the question entirely and look at the matter from the public point of view with regard to the influence it would have upon other cases.

"When I look at the case of your son from this point of view it seems to me clearly my duty to withhold a pardon.

"My heart goes out to you in genuine sympathy, my dear Mrs. Caminetti, and I cannot tell you what it costs me to write you this, but I'm sure that you will understand that I am moved entirely by a sense of imperative duty."

Spring Colds Are the Worst

They lead to catarrh and pneumonia. They weaken the entire system and leave it unable to resist the sudden changes. They interfere with your digestion and lessen your activity. Neglected they soon become that dread disease known as systemic catarrh. Don't neglect them. It's costly as well as dangerous.

PERUNA Will Safeguard You

Have a box of Peruna Tablets with you for the sudden cold or exposure. Tone your system up with a regular course of the liquid Peruna, fortify it against colds, get your digestion up to normal, take care of yourself, and avoid danger. If you are suffering now begin the treatment at once. Give Nature the help she needs to throw off the catarrhal inflammation, and again become well.

When the prices of potatoes first advanced Henry Clay, owner of a small grocery that catered to the working people of New York, sold out at auction and invested the money entirely in rice. The latter being more nutritious than potatoes and costing much less, soon came into great demand. In three weeks Clay disposed of his entire stock at a net profit of over $5,000.

says Mrs. Sylvania Woods, of Clifton Mills, Ky., in writing of her experience with Cardui, the woman's tonic. She says further: "Before I began to use Cardui, my back and head would hurt so bad, I thought the pain would kill me. I was hardly able to do any of my housework. After taking three bottles of Cardui, I began to feel like a new woman. I soon gained 35 pounds, and now, I do all my housework, as well as run a big water mill.

Get Ready for Business.

Right now in our own county there are fully 1000 young people who would be glad to improve their financial condition, and who could do it in less than twelve months, if they would take a good business course in such an institution as the Bowling Green Business University, at Bowling Green, Ky.

Attention.

All parties owing us due notes and accounts will please call and settle same, as we have sold our Mill and are going out of the Milling business, we earnestly desire to collect all monies due us at once. We also wish to state to all parties who have wheat on deposit in our mill and wish to settle in full with us, should call before the first of May for their flour and bran, otherwise the new firm of Myers & Barger will be the ones to whom you will have to look to settle, as we will turn over to them a sufficient amount of wheat to settle all balances due, and upon so doing our responsibility in the matter will cease.

Hundred Million Emergency War Fund is passed by the Senate.

Washington, April 6.—Appropriation of $100,000,000 for an emergency war fund to be used at the President's discretion, similar to the $50,000,000 fund given President McKinley for prosecuting the Spanish war, was attached to-day by the Senate Appropriations Committee to the general deficiency bill.

The Appropriations Committee also increased the Department of Justice funds for the prosecution of crime and also that of the secret service.

The $100,000,000 given the President is "for the national security and defense and for each and every purpose" and is to be expended "at the discretion of the President," is made available at once and to remain available until December 31, 1917.

The bill now carries a total of $164,853,000.

Will Probated.

The Will of Mrs. Sarah Bradshaw was probated in the Adair County Court last Wednesday. She bequeathed to her niece, Mrs. J. F. Claycomb, her home and its contents in Columbia, Ky.

Her other property she disposed of as follows: One-half of the residue of her property she devised to the American Sunday School Union established in the city of Philadelphia, Pa. To Lilla Claycomb, Edward L. Lester, Jas. A. Lester, Leona E. Person and Sallie M. Ellison, each, she wills, devises and bequeaths one-fourteenth of said residue; and to the Louisville Safety Vault and Trust Company as trustee for the person and persons hereinafter mentioned. The remainder of the property is given to different ones, relatives of herself and her late husband. A certain income goes to the pastor of the Presbyterian Church, of Columbia, Ky., when the income is due provided there be a pastor.

The estate is estimated to be worth twenty thousand dollars.

Judge Rollin Hurt and Mr. E. H. Hughes were named as executors of the will.

Geo. R. Holt.

There are but few men who watch his business more closely than the subject of this writing. He has been the district manager of the Singer Sewing Machine Company for something like twenty-five years, and has been instrumental in selling thousands of machines. He makes it a point to secure as good men as possible for field work, and he stays at his general office in Campbellsville, and in it you most generally find some one who wants to buy a machine. Mr. Holt is a very polite gentleman, and his courtesy has had much to do with his success in business. He has a friendly word and a warm handshake for every man or lady who enters his place, and in an expert manner he demonstrates his machine, and then truthfully tells of its merit.

Mr. Holt was born and reared in Russell county, but has been away from the home of his nativity for more than a quarter of a century. Before taking up his residence in Campbellsville, where he has lived perhaps fifteen or more years, he resided at Bardstown, Ky., where he conducted the same line of business in a very satisfactory manner. The Lord has been good to him. Starting with but little means, he now owns a nice home with a good farm attached, and also possesses other property. Merit wins, and George started out upon that line and has been successful, and his friends rejoice with him.

An Appeal to Colored Citizens.

The signer of the following address is a colored man and it appeared in the Louisville Post last Thursday:

Dear Brother of My Race: This is your home, your God-blessed country. It is yours by both "birth" and heritage. You, my dear brother, are the real pioneer citizen of these dear old United States.

This country faces the greatest crisis in its history. Is there a heart among us so ignoble as to despise the flag under which we were born? Is there a tongue so slanderous as to curse the land over which the banner of his government floats?

Though our grandfathers were but aliens, and our fathers slaves, we, their offspring, are free citizens of this country and constitutional members of its commonwealth by a birth-right nothing can alter.

Lift high your head in pride sublime; sing "America" with reverential patriotism; prove your loyalty by offering your service in defense of the honor of the government over which floats the flag under which you are born. Then my dear brother, you will convince as well as warn the entire world, that he who tramples upon the honor of these United States, of imposes upon its citizens with indignities, does so at his peril and brings down upon his head the pangs of a punitive blow. They have merely to consult history to be convinced of the might with which the colored man is by nature qualified to strike in defense of his country and his flag.

DAKOTA JACK

Right now this country is calling for men of stout hearts and sound bodies. It needs them to keep Old Glory triumphant and unsullied in the air.

The exigency now confronting us emphasises, as nothing else could do, the importance of good health, both as an individual and national asset.

It gives point to the suggestion, often emanating from this office, that every body should guard their health as a priceless possession. Ball Chief 3806, A. S. H. R.

At $20.00 to insure a living colt.

DESCRIPTION:—Ball Chief, in color is a rich red chestnut, star and snip, right hind pastern white, 7 years old, 16 hand high, has fine head and beautiful long slender tapering ears, has an extremely long thin blade neck, that comes out of his perfectly formed withers in faultless fashion and tapers perfectly to his beautiful head in which are set a pair of large clear expressive eyes. He has a high well set natural tail, which he carries at all times to suit the most fastidious. He has a good short back and a most excellent set of feet and legs. He is nicely broken and trained, and goes all the gaits in a most attractive manner.

While he has not been extremely shown, yet, he has contended for honors in some of the best congregations of show horses and his many winnings are proof of his powers to meet the requirements in the best show rings. As a breeder he is in the front rank, transmitting to his get, form, size, style and manner of going that are his characteristics and which make, not only the show animal, but the general utility horse—the horse that will always live in the fancy of men and perform the service in that manner that will command a fancy price.

BALL CHIEF has for his sire the champion Montgomery Chief 3801, by Bourbon Chief 978, by Harrison Chief 1006, he by Clark Chief. 1st dam Louise Cabell 5900, by Red Squirrel 53. 2nd dam Juella C. by Jewell Denmark 70, he by Washington Denmark 64. 3rd dam Dew Drop, by Artigt 75. 4th dam by Cabell's Lexington.
